Ninth Loss in 10 Games—

Denison Beats Carroll

Denison snapped a three-game losing streak, defeating Carroll, 5-1, here Wednesday night behind Ron Swann's four-hit pitching.

Swann was in command except for one pitch as he struck out 11. The only damaging blow off him was Pete Marz's 347-foot solo homer over the right-center field fence in the sixth inning.

Tiger starter Randy Plotz pitched well, allowing just six hits and fanning 10. He tired in the middle and late innings, giving up two runs each in the fourth and seventh and one run in the fifth.

The Monarchs, now 10-3 overall, broke up a scoreless duel in fourth, getting two runs on three hits. With one out, Charlie Meyer and Denny Neppl singled. A walk to Jeff Weibers loaded the bases and Ed Fink then singled home the two runs.

Denison made it 3-0 after five innings. Dean McLaughlin singled, stole second, reached third on an infield error and came home on a wild pitch.

Carroll cut the deficit to 3-1 after six innings as Marz blasted the Tigers first homer of the season.

The winners added their final two runs in the seventh as Doug Grau singled home McLaughlin and Swann who had walked.

Besides Marz's blast, Carroll got only three other hits. Tom Nam singled in the opening frame and Bob Brown doubled in the fifth and singled in the sixth.

Carroll, now 3-12 on the season and loser of nine of its last 10 games, hosts Storm Lake Friday night before facing arch-rival Kuemper Monday night in the first round of sectional play.

Sports Glances

Carroll Bowling

There are two new leaders in the Carroll Bowl's annual summer tournament. Mike Riddle and Gary Quandt of Carroll took over the top spot in men's doubles with a 1329.

Quandt also teamed with Sherry Snyder for the mixed doubles lead with a 1255.

Riddle fired a 265 to tie Bruce Pettitt for the high single game, while Dave Neilsen maintained his lead in men's singles at 666 as did Leara Kirk in the ladies singles with a 614.

Golden Era Golf

The Golden Era golf tournament will be held Monday, July 17, at the Carroll Country Club.

The tournament is open to all gentlemen who have reached fifty-years-old. The entry fee is $6 and that includes 18 holes of golf and a dinner in the evening. A lunch will also be available.

There will be eight flights with several prizes in each flight. For reservations, interested golfers should contact the country club. Chairman for the event is Bill Chambers.

Member-Gust Golf

In the Member-Guest Better Ball of Two tournament at the country club Wednesday, the teams of Joe Thraen-George Provopulos and William Arts Jr.-Larry Bluml tied for first at 29. Second-place went to Bill Feld and Clay Broich at 29.

In the individual event — gross and net prizes for both — Denny Webber took the gross division with a 39 as Pat Malloy, Leo Clark and Don McDermott tied for second at 42. In the net division, Wilbur Halbur and Don Schechinger tied for first at 35.

For the members, John Dearduff and Fred Dolezal tied for gross honors with 36s. Joe Thraen and Bill Feld fired 30s for net division honors.

Little League

Brad Edwards, son of Carroll High School baseball coach Ted Edwards, tossed a no-hitter as the Yanks took over first place in Little League play Wednesday night.

Edwards struck out 16 of the 20 batters he faced in his team's 9-0 victory over the helpless Dodgers. In other games, the Cardinals defeated the Mets, the Cubs beat the Orioles and the Athletics downed the Braves.

Main Tap Wins

Main Tap defeated the Roselle boys, 9-4, Wednesday night at Lidderdale in slow pitch action. The winning pitcher was Jerry Schafer.

Benefit Game

The Breda 16 inch slow pitch team will face the Breda girls softball team in a benefit game in Breda tonight, starting at 8:30.

British Open

Jack Nicklaus went into today's second round of the British Open Golf Championship in an unusual spot. He wasn't leading.

"But I'm happy," said the 32-year-old American star who needs the British title for the third leg of an unprecented professional golf slam.

Nicklaus shot a one-under-par 70 in Wednesday's first round over the 6,892-yard Murifield course.

He was two strokes behind the leader, little-known British pro Peter Tupling, and one behind Britain's Tony Jacklin. Nicklaus, overwhelming favorite to win his third British crown, shared third place with two other American players, Frank Beard and Dave Marr, and two Britons — Pete Townsend and Craig DeFoy.

Wildlife Corner

By Dennis O'Grady, Sports Editor

The Iowa Conservation Commission has set hunting and trapping seasons for a number of wildlife species in the state and has acted to protect a diminishing gray fox population.

The commission shortened by two weeks the hunting season for red and gray foxes.

"We all feel the gray fox is one of the finest game animals we have and we're all going to protect it to the highest degree," said Harry Harrison, chief of the commission's fish and wildlife division.

The trapping season for foxes was also decreased and will run from Oct. 28 through Jan. 31.

Grouse Season

The ruffed grouse season has been lengthened 12 days over last year and will run from Oct. 21 through Dec. 1.

The hunting area is limited to east of U.S. 63 and north of Iowa 3. Shooting hours will be 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., with a bag limit of two and possession limit for four.

Raccoon Hunting

For the first time, the state has been divided into two zones for raccoon hunting. Zone 1 for hunting will be north of U.S. 20, from Oct. 14 through Feb. 15. Zone 2 will be south of U.S. 20, from Oct. 28 through Feb. 15. There is no bag or possession limit.

The trapping season for raccoons, skunks, civet cats, oppossum, badgers and weasels will be the same length as last year.

It opens at 6 a.m. Oct. 28 and closes Feb. 15. The entire state will be open with only land sets allowed until the mink and muskrat season begins at 6 a.m. Nov. 11 and closes Dec. 11.

Beaver Season

The beaver trapping season will open a little earlier to reduce the beaver population in nuisance areas in western Iowa.

The beaver season in Zone 1 opens at 6 a.m. Nov. 11 and closes Feb. 28. Zone 1 is an area west of U.S. 169 from the Minnesota border to its junction with U.S. 20, west on U.S. 20 to U.S. 59, and south on U.S. 59 to the Missouri border.

Beavers may be trapped in Zone 2 from 6 a.m. Dec. 16 through Feb. 28. Zone 2 includes all of the state not in Zone 1.

Rabbits and Squirrels

Rabbit and squirrel hunting seasons will be basically the same as in 1971 and apply statewide.

For cottontail and jackrabbits, the season will be Sept. 9 through Feb. 28 from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Bag limit is 10 with no possession limit.

For gray and fox squirrels season will be Sept. 9 through Jan. 1 with no restriction on shooting hours. Bag limit is six and possession limit 12.

Fishing Hotspots

In southwest Iowa at the Lake of Three Fires (Taylor County) there is excellent channel catfish fishing. Fish average two to three pounds with 10 pounders not uncommon. Good bullhead fishing with nightcrawlers most popular bait.

At Lake Anita in Cass County, excellent crappie and bluegill fishing. Brushy areas yielding crappies up to one pound. Worms are taking 10 inch bluegills.

Shelby County's Prairie Rose Lake has been having good crappie fishing with catches of up to fifty 8 to 10 inch fish. Small lead-headed jigs are the best bet.

At Brown's Lake in Woodbury County, good fishing for largemouth bass and northern pike. Weedless silver spoons with porkrind taking the most fish.

The Missouri River in Woodbury County has had some outstanding catches of mooneyes (skipjack) in the eddies behind the wing dikes. Best results with balsa wood minnow lures and French-type spinners.

At Spirit Lake in Dickinson County, good bullhead fishing, but need a boat to reach the better areas.

And at our own Swan Lake, bullhead and catfish fishing has been reported good.

Little Bits

During a recent storm which dropped three-and-one-half inches of rain on Aberdeen, Wash. a race ocean water spout sucked up three or four dozen anchovy fingerlings and blew them about a half mile inland. According to one observer, it was literally "raining anchovies on several pleasantly surprised chickens."

The nation's second tallest building, New York's Empire State Building, had its problems in May.

The floodlights on the top 30 floors of the building were turned off during the month of May in order to save the lives of many thousands of migrating birds. On foggy and cloudy nights, the birds apparently get confused by the light, lose their bearings, and fly directly into the building. It marked the 35th migration period since 1955 in which the lights were extinguished.

Here's one against pollution. The size of the tallest building in the world, Manhattan's towering World Trade Center (now higher than the Empire State), doesn't seem quite justified when you realize that the building's 7,000 toilets empty untreated waste into the Hudson River, joining the other 400 million gallons of untreated sewage from New York City every day.
