Kuemper pitcher Joni Huegerich fires a strike to first base after a ground ball was hit to her. The Lady Knights ended a two-game losing streak by nipping Sioux City

East here Monday night, 6-5. Kuemper, now 8-5, will be at St. Edmond Wednesday night.

Borg opens with victory at Wimbledon; wants U.S. Open

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Bjorn Borg, one match behind him in his bid to win the Wimbledon tennis title for a sixth straight time, says he is now even more determined to win the U.S. Open.

It is the one major title that has eluded the 25-year-old super-successful Swede. Borg opened his 1981 Wimbledon campaign with a solid 7-6, 6-3, 6-1 triumph over American left-hander Peter Rennett and said afterward: "My biggest remaining ambition in the game is to win at Flushing Meadow."

Rennett hung in for the first set but was then overwhelmed by the improving defending champion, who ran his winning streak at Wimbledon to 36 consecutive matches.

Borg said he was under even more pressure this year. "Always I'm under pressure," he said. "Even when I'm not the champion, I'm under pressure. I don't feel I have to win every match, but people expect it."

McEnroe and third-seeded Jimmy Connors both recorded straight-set victories, but three seeds were defeated on an opening day full of surprises.

Charlie Fancutt, an Australian ranked 194th in the world, defeated No. 4 seed Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3.

Eric Fromm of Glen Head, N.Y., upset 13th-seeded Yannick Noah of France 6-4, 6-4, 6-3, and Texan Bill Scanlon ousted 11th-seeded Victor Pecci of Paraguay 7-6, 6-0, 6-0.

The excitement, however, is not diminished. "Every time I look forward to Wimbledon. It is special, the greatest tournament to play. It is tradition. Wimbledon always has been No. 1," he said.

If the seedings hold, Borg would meet volatile American left-hander John McEnroe in a repeat of last year's thrilling five-set men's singles final. But the seedings didn't hold completely on Monday.

McEnroe and third-seeded Jimmy Connors both recorded straight-set victories, but three seeds were defeated on an opening day full of surprises.

Charlie Fancutt, an Australian ranked 194th in the world, defeated No. 4 seed Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3.

Eric Fromm of Glen Head, N.Y., upset 13th-seeded Yannick Noah of France 6-4, 6-4, 6-3, and Texan Bill Scanlon ousted 11th-seeded Victor Pecci of Paraguay 7-6, 6-0, 6-0.

Connors, champion here in 1974, wasn't joking about his intentions. "I want to win it. If I didn't think I was prepared, eager and in the right shape, then I would have no business here."

Carroll girls in cage camp

FAYETTE—Sue Wiederin, Kay Pudenz, Denise Overmohle, Kandy Drees and Sandy Ausman, all of Carroll, participated in the Upper Iowa University girls basketball camp here last week.

The camp director was Gene Klinge who is the head coach at West Central of Maynard.

Klinge's teams have been in six state tournaments and have won nine district and 13 sectional crowns.

Every muscle in the human body functions according to messages from the brain, carried by the nerves which connect the brain to all parts of the body. The main nerves run along the spinal column, protected because they are located within the hollow vertebrae of the spine.

Nerves branch out from the spine, passing between the vertebrae. If any vertebra is moved from its normal position, the nerves that pass through or near that vertebra may be pinched and irritated to the extent that pain results and muscle function may be impaired.

Chiropractic can find and correct spinal misalignments. Call today for a chiropractic examination and treatment and discover the benefits of chiropractic.

Kuemper girls clip S.C. East, 6-5

The Kuemper girls ended a softball skid here Monday with a 6-5 win over Sioux City East.

The Lady Knights, now 8-5 on the year, broke a 5-5 tie in the fifth as Joan Brown's sacrifice fly scored Cheryl Nieland with the winning run. Nieland had earlier singled in the inning.

East jumped out to a 4-0 lead, but Kuemper came back with three runs in the third as Brown singled and then Lisa Scharfenkamp walked. Then Karen Berg belted a two-run triple and Joan Staples followed with a sacrifice fly to score Berg.

In the fourth, Kuemper took a 5-4 lead as winning pitcher Joni Huegerich singled and then Brown, who was perfect, tripled home Huegerich. Joan Staples then had a sacrifice fly to chase home Brown.

JV Bows
East won the JV game, 3-2, as neither team was able to get a hit.

The losing Kuemper pitcher was Amy Daeges.

The young Lady Knights, now 5-2-1, will play at St. Edmond of Fort Dodge Wednesday night.

A bad night for Carroll's teams

BY DENNIS O'GRADY
Sports Editor
It was a bad night for the Carroll baseball and softball teams against Perry.

At Carroll Stadium, the Bluejays snapped the Tigers' two-game winning streak, humbling Warren Rudkin's outfit, 14-0, in a game that went seven innings.

At Perry, the first-place Jayettes stayed perfect in Midwest Conference play by drubbing the Tigerettes, 15-0, in three innings as Pam Meier tossed her second straight no-hitter.

On Saturday, Meier threw a no-hitter against Kuemper in a 10-0 five inning romp.

In the girls game, Perry scored all of their runs in the second inning, using 14 hits.

Perry also won the junior varsity game. The Carroll girls, now 7-3, have Wednesday off as they take a forfeit win from Denison.

On Friday, the Tigerettes host Boone, the No. 4 rated team in the state.

Baseball Game
The excitement in the baseball game was whether Perry pitcher Gary Toepfer was going to get his second no-hitter of the season.

The Tigers finally broke the ice against the stocky righthander as Gary Benedict singled with one out in the sixth. Then with two outs, teammate Paul Peterson blooped a single.

Carroll got their final hit in the seventh as Rex Mitchell singled.

Perry also triumphed in the junior varsity contest, 7-3.

Carroll got two hits and they were by Jeff Reinart and Greg Lux.

The losing Tiger pitcher was Mark DeMey. The young Tigers are now 3-8 on the year.

The road doesn't get any easier for Carroll. On Wednesday night they travel to Denison to meet the Monarchs who are unbeaten in league play.
