Four Yankees head American League All-Star team

NEW YORK (AP) — Four New York Yankees — outfielders Dave Winfield and Reggie Jackson, second baseman Willie Randolph and shortstop Bucky Dent — head the American League All-Star team announced today.

They will be joined in the AL starting lineup for Sunday night's game at Cleveland Stadium by first baseman Rod Carew of California, Kansas City third baseman George Brett, catcher Carlton Fisk of the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore outfielder Ken Singleton.

Earlier Monday, Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced the starting lineup for the National League stars. It is headed by Philadelphia's Pete Rose, named at first base for a record fifth starting position.

Joining Rose in the NL infield are second baseman Davey Lopes of Los Angeles, Cincinnati shortstop Dave Concepcion and third baseman Mike Schmidt of Philadelphia.

In the outfield, the NL will have three sluggers — Cincinnati's George Foster, Dave Parker of Pittsburgh and Montreal's Andre Dawson. Gary Carter of Montreal was named the starting catcher.

Pitchers for both squads will be named Thursday and the reserves on the 30-man teams will be announced Friday.

The 52nd annual All-Star game, originally scheduled for July 14, will mark the return of major league baseball following a 50-day strike that ended last Friday mo

The major league owners, who had been scheduled to meet today in Chicago to ratify the strike settlement and discuss plans for the remainder of the season, were forced to postpone the meeting because of the air traffic controllers walkout. The owners will meet Thursday instead or, if necessary, talk via conference call.

Major league teams continued working out, preparing for the resumption of the regular season next Monday. At Cooperstown, N.Y., the Oneonta Yankees defeated the Elmira Red Sox in a New York-Penn League game played as a replacement for the scheduled Hall of Fame contest between the Oakland A's and Cincinnati Reds.

The All Star teams were selected on the basis of just over 3 million votes, compared with the usual 12 million ballots cast. Computer card balloting for the All Star teams, sponsored by Gillette, began in major league parks before the start of the strike June 12. During the period of the walkout, voting continued in minor league parks and at retail outlets.

Crouse, Manilla split

Larry Siebert pitched both games for Crouse as did Manilla hurler Norm Ertz.

Improve yourself before improving others.

Parents should carefully observe their children's posture and general structural balance. The pelvis, shoulders and head should be level. Shoulder blades should be balanced and equi-distant from the spine.

The arms should hang with the palms of the hands facing slightly backward, equal on both right and left. Deviations from symmetry may mean that the child suffers from "scoliosis", or curvature of the spine. This condition is often caused by imbalanced muscle pull, imbalanced nerve function or distortion patterns.

Scoliosis often responds to treatment by chiropractic. Call today for an examination.
