TO ESTHERVILLE?-Latest word on Shan Deniston, erstwhile Lakes - Denison manager, is that he's headed for Estherville as a catcher. He wants no part of a managing job, but would handle the catching duties for the right offer.

The Red Sox are due to lose the services of Harry Hill, regular receiver, to the Marines July 8 or 9. The Sox have contacted Deniston about finishing out the season. Deniston, who has had great success as a hitter this season (.432), is not regarded as a good catcher.

WANTS JOB - Harry Moore, the hustling Hoosier who patrols center field for the Carroll Merchants, is looking for a coaching job in the Carroll area. He finished at the University of Indiana. this spring. Harry prefers coaching baseball and basketball, but is qualified for coaching all sports.

GOOD START-Bob Diers, the Nebraska outfielder who was released by Spencer last week-end, stepped into a Pipestone, Minn., uniform Sunday afternoon and drilled out a homer, double and single. Earlier that day he was named to the third all-American college baseball squad. But he had only one hit in a Spencer uniform. . .

LIVES ON PRESSURE-Joe McDermott, Yankee scout who signed Johnny Blanchard, phoned us yesterday to tell about Blanchard's start with the Kansas City Blues.

He left by plane from Minneapolls at 10 a. m., arrived at Kansas City just in time to catch a taxi for the ball park and the Blues' doubleheader.

After he was signed Tuesday, Johnny was swamped with phone calls, visitors, newsmen and radio men. He appeared on two television shows and got little rest. And then he comes through with two safe pinch hits in his first two times up in the double-header! Says McDermott: "The kid lives on pressure."

YANKEE CAMP --- Inclentally, the Yankees will conduct a tryout camp at Linden July 9 and 10 under the direction of McDermott, Two sessions a day will be held at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. Players are asked to bring their own equipment.

His record in the Texas league is 13 innings pitched, 10 hits and Spencer at Wall Lake tonight. 20 runs allowed, 34 bases on balls, two hit batsmen, 10 strikeouts, two games lost, none won.

The case of Rex Barney, an Omaha native, has puzzled the brightest minds in baseball. Some think it's because of the way he began to throw-with his arm cocked over his ear. Others think it may be from the way he comes off the mound or places his foot. Anyway, Bragan is working as hard as Barney trying to find out. And Barney is working about 10

Here's Story for You to Shoot At

PHOENIX, ARIZ, (P)-Grover Land, the old big league catcher and coach, hit one of the most unusual home runs in baseball history. This is his story:

"In Chicago, one hot afternoon in 1914, when I was catching for Brooklyn in the old Federal League, Umpire Barry McCormick failed to show up. That put the burden for the entire game on Bill Brennan. He had to call the balls and strikes plus all the action on the bases and was working up quite a sweat.

"I turned around to Bill and said, 'Why don't you move that carcass of yours in back of the pitcher and call 'em all from there?

"Bill said, 'I think you finally got an idea, you big ham.' And he took off for the mound, putting on a kind of apron to hold extra baseballs.

"Every time he ran over to the foul line to watch a ball, . the baseball belt around his middle hopped all around. Brennan got disgusted and building a pyramid so they wouldn't scatter around.

"That was the situation when I came to the plate.

"I stepped into the second pitch and darned if I didn't hit a line drive right at the pile of baseballs. Well, those balls went every which way. Every infielder came up with one but I kept ruunning even though they all put a ball on me at every base. When I crossed the plate Brennan called me safe because he didn't know whether I had been tagged with the right
