> In recent years, there have been many calls on Capitol Hill to do something about boxing, but nothing has been done. This time there appears to be a mood that could force action.

Rep. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., strapping son of former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney, said in a statement that the Clay-Liston fight was "another example of the reason that boxing has fallen into such ill repute in this country."

Tunney and Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., had earlier introduced bills to ban monopolistic practices in boxing. The bills have been referred to the House Judiciary Committee.

Rep. Robert Michel, R-III., introduced a resolution Thursday to give the Judiciary Committee power to investigate boxing. Michel suggested there be no more heavyweight title fights until the probe is completed.
