Cey hits another HR to beat Braves

By The Associated Press
Ron Cey had just hit his second three-run homer in two nights, both of them game-winners for the Los Angeles Dodgers, but everyone was talking about his fielding. Cey had a tough play to help keep Atlanta from scoring in the fourth inning and an even tougher play to get the final out of the game in the Dodgers' 3-2 victory over the Braves Wednesday night.

fielder for the final out. Cey's homier, his 10th of the season, came in the third and was off a high knuckleball, one of Niekro's few mistakes of the game. The homer scored Bill Russell, who bounced a single up the middle, and Garvey, who walked. After the third, Niekro limited LA to Dave Lopes' single. Cey has provided all the firepower in the Dodgers' two victories over Atlanta in this series. Tuesday night, the Dodgers beat Atlanta 3-0 on Cey's three-run blast.

"That's why he's been an All-Star third baseman," said knuckleballer Phil Niekro, 8-9, who lost another tough one as he went the route for the Braves and gave up just three hits. In the fourth, Cey fielded a grounder in foul territory behind third and forced Biff Poceroba at second before Steve Garvey made an over-the-shoulder catch of a bases-loaded foul pop to end the inning. And with two out in the ninth and the tying run on third, Cey charged a slow chopper by Gary Matthews and fired to Garvey to get the fleet out.

In other National League games, St. Louis shaded Pittsburgh 7-5 in 11 innings, Chicago nipped New York 9-8 in 10. Philadelphia downed Montreal 7-5. Houston blanked Cincinnati 3-0 and San Francisco split a twinbill with San Diego, winning the opener 4-2 and losing the nightcap 4-1. Dodger starter Burt Hooton, 7-6, went six innings and got the victory, and Terry Forster, the third Dodgers pitcher to work in the 100-degree heat, got his 10th save.

Brewers move into second with sweep

By The Associated Press
Lung for lung, Milwaukee fans will match their long-yell power with any others in baseball. "These fans are really fantastic," said Jerry Augustine after listening Wednesday night to some of the loudest cheers ever to ring through venerable County Stadium. One of the largest home crowds in Brewer history — 39,283 — showed its appreciation and enthusiasm for a double-header sweep over the New York Yankees. Augustine, especially, got an earful, since he pitched the 7-2 clincher after the 5-0 opening-game victory.

Royals 9-5. Ben Oglvie smashed a three-run homer in the seventh inning and Mike Caldwell hurled a six-hitter to lead Milwaukee's first-game victory. The Brewers won the nightcap as Sal Bando singled home the tiebreaking run in the seventh inning, helping the Brewers overtake the Yankees for second place in the AL East.

As Augustine wrapped up his neat seven-hitter, most of the fans stood and chanted, "Augie! Augie! Augie!" The cheering and chanting continued until the last Brewer had walked off the field into the dugout. Brewer fans certainly have had something to cheer about this season, with their team currently in second place in the American League East, 12 games over the .500 mark. In other American League games, the Oakland A's edged the Texas Rangers 2-1 in 15 innings; the Detroit Tigers beat the Cleveland Indians 4-3 in the first game of a double header the Indians took the nightcap, 2-1; the Chicago White Sox stopped the Seattle Mariners 4-3; the Toronto Blue Jays beat the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 and the California Angels turned back the Kansas City

A's 2, Rangers 1. Mike Edwards' 15th-inning single scored pinch-runner Rob Picciolo from second base to lead Oakland over Texas. Wayne Gross opened the 15th by drawing a walk off losing pitcher Len Barker, 1-3. Picciolo ran for him and advanced to second on a sacrifice. Barker then walked Glenn Burke and got Joe Wallis on a fly ball before Edwards singled to left to end the 4-hour and 2-minute marathon. Winning pitcher Pete Broberg, 8-6, held the Rangers scoreless on two hits over the final five innings. Tigers 4-1, Indians 3-2. Ron LeFlore cracked a pair of RBI singles to lead Detroit over Cleveland in the first game of their doubleheader. Detroit took the lead for good with three runs in the third inning, when LeFlore had one of his run-scoring hits. Andre Thornton drilled a tie-breaking RBI single in the sixth inning to give the Indians their second-game victory. Thornton's hit made a winner of Mike Paxton, 5-4.
