Kuemper girls make history; gain district berth

WALL LAKE—The Kuemper girls softball team made history here Monday night in the sectional semi-finals.

They clipped Lake View-Auburn, 10-8, in eight innings to advance to tonight's 8 p. m. championship game here against host Wall Lake.

The triumph over LV-A assures Kuemper of a berth in the district tournament. Kuemper's record is now 16-11, while LV-A bows out at 8-13. Wall Lake, which owns a 3-2 win over Kuemper this season, is 21-3.

The Lady Knights won the game in the top of the eighth on run-scoring hits by winning pitcher Cathy Carruthers and Belinda Gute.

It was an uphill battle for coach Bill Henkenius' club as Kuemper rallied from a 4-0 deficit after two innings.

In the third, the Lady Knights scored as Kelly Green tripled and then Joan Staples singled with two outs.

Kuemper tied it at four in the fourth as Laurie Buettel and Belinda Gute singled and an error loaded the bases.

A walk forced in one run and then Kelly Fleskes singled to narrow the deficit to 4-3. The tying run scored on a sacrifice fly by Staples.

With the game tied at five going into the seventh, Kuemper scored three times as Kathy Nieland singled and then Carruthers doubled in pinch-runner Kathy Shymanski.

Brenda Gute then singled home Carruthers and the final run came home on a double by Green.

LV-A fought back and tied it as Brenda Kruse's single with two outs being the key blow.

"The girls kept coming back, considering we've lost a lot of close games," Henkenius said. "That shows character."

"Offensively, seven of the nine girls have hit safely in both tournament games," the Kuemper coach added. "Our hitting has been the key."

"We played very poor defense, but it's nice to win," he added. "I hope it's out of our system."

Lemon isn't ruling out managing again

SEATTLE (AP) — Bob Lemon hauls on Yankee uniform No. 21 again tonight as American League manager in baseball's 50th All-Star game, and people are wondering:

Will Lemon ever put on a uniform again?

"I don't know, I want to think about it," the 58-year-old former pitcher, a member of the Hall of Fame, said as excitement built for the annual mid-summer display of the game's finest talent.

"I won't make a decision until after this season. I will go home and decide what direction I want to take. I intend to stay in baseball. In what capacity, I'll just have to wait and see."

Lemon's career is at the cross-roads. After taking over the Yankees in mid-season a year ago, with the world champions 10 games out of first place, and leading them to a second pennant and World Series victory, he was unceremoniously removed from his job June 18.

That was when owner George Steinbrenner decided his sagging "gold dust team" needed a shot in the arm and he called in probationed Billy Martin half a year ahead of schedule to reassume charge.

"Sure, I was disappointed," Lemon said. "I'm always disappointed when I get fired. I was given only three days' notice. I wanted to finish out the season."

"Did I feel betrayed? Well, I didn't like it. But I understood the realities. A guy can do anything he wants with his property."

Disenchantment ran particularly deep. Lemon had taken over a mediocre Kansas City team in 1970 and carried it to second place the next year. He was fired in 1972. He took over the last-place Chicago White Sox at the end of 1976 and had the team in first place in July and August of the next year. He was fired in mid-season in 1978.

"It seems every time I have good year, I can't get through the next one," he said wryly. "Maybe if I had a losing ball club, I could hold my job."

Lemon was pleased when he was selected to manage the AL All-Stars although he no longer was in uniform. And there was precedent for not using a winning manager who had been dismissed in the interim (Yogi Berra, Yankees, 1965).

"This fills out the cycle for me," he said. "I have been player, coach, captain and now manager in the All-Star game. I have done it all."

There was an ironic twist to Steinbrenner's managerial machinations. Lemon, an easy-going fatherly type, was hired a year ago because of his settling effect on a team that was in constant turmoil. The quality that got him the job also got him replaced. The owner thought the team needed the more volatile Martin.

Now Lemon is a man in limbo.

Steinbrenner says he will be general manager. But the Yankees have a general manager, Cedric Tallis. And, Lemon has been offered the Cleveland pilot's post by Gabe Paul. But he hasn't taken it.

"My duties with the Yankees haven't been clearly defined," Lemon says. "I want to see what that deal is. Meanwhile, I am not shutting the door on a managing job. It's the closest thing to playing."

Infielder Toby Harrah of the Cleveland Indians attended Ohio Northern University on a football scholarship.

Batters looking forward to hitting in the Kingdome

SEATTLE (AP) - It won't take a king-sized hit to get out of Seattle's Kingdome, so batters look forward to tonight's 50th All-Star baseball game with unabashed anticipation.

Even though they'll face the major league strikeout king Nolan Ryan, the National League hitters surveyed the enclosed stadium with happiness.

Davey Lopes, the second baseman from the Los Angeles Dodgers, banged a few balls into the bleachers and observed:

"This is very conducive to hitting. Everybody in batting practice was trying to hit the ball over the wall to hear the oohs and aahs from the crowd. It will be a different story against Nolan Ryan."

The right-hander from the California Angels was named for the Americans with Steve Carlton of the Phillies the choice of National League manager Tommy Lasorda.

Ryan is 12-6 with 160 strikeouts with Carlton 11-8 with 113.

Lasorda said he went to Carlton as his starter because the American League would send up a flock of left-handed hitters and he wanted a southpaw to be going against them the first three innings.

The game is scheduled to start at 5:40 p.m. PDT as the NL goes after its eighth straight triumph and 16th in 17 games. Overall, after 49 games, the NL has won 30, the AL 18 and there has been one tie.

There will be no designated hitters in this game so the pitchers bat ninth.

The AL batting order has shortstop Roy Smalley leading off, followed by George Brett, third base; Don Baylor, left field; Jim Rice, right field; Fred Lynn, center field; Carl Yastrzemski, first base; Darrell Porter, catcher, and Frank White, second base. The Kingdome is sold out at 58,960 — a record for the park which measures 316 down the foul lines, 357 down the power alleys and 410 to center.

Weather doesn't mean much in the enclosed Kingdome, but for outsiders it will be fair with temperatures in the 60's.

Many feel the All-Star Game record of six home runs will be broken. Six homers have been hit in All-Star Games on three occasions, in 1951 and 1971 at Detroit and in 1954 at Cleveland.

Each manager vowed he would use as many from the 28-man squads as possible, but Lemon said, "I feel just as Tommy does. We want to win."

In this game, pitchers are limited to three innings of action each and Lemon said he didn't know who would follow Ryan. He has seven others to choose from including rookie Mark Clear, a reliever for the California Angels. Lasorda said Steve Rogers of the Montreal Expos would follow Carlton.
