

Seventh inning run too much for Tigers

Carroll gave up a run in the seventh inning and fell 5-4 to Saydel in Raccoon River Conference play Friday night at Carroll Stadium.

Chase Steinkamp suffered the loss for the Tigers in three innings of work, giving up three runs (1 earned) on three hits with three walks and two strikeouts. Kyle Semprini pitched the first four innings, allowing two earned runs on four hits with no walks and three strikeouts.

Semprini was 2 for 3 with a RBI single in the second inning. Marc Hempstead had a RBI double in the second and Nick Behm also had a hit for Carroll.

The Tigers scored two runs in the second inning, one each in the fifth and sixth. Saydel plated two runs in the fourth and fifth innings and one in the seventh.

"It was a disappointing loss against a very good team," Carroll coach Dirk Troutman said. "We weren't able to make key plays when we needed to. We had eight hits to their seven, but we didn't take advantage of a couple of their mishaps. We certainly hope to improve and play better."
